Public Works Department

In cooperation with USGS the City of Summerset has installed a climate station/well monitoring station to help collect data of sub surface water levels. Previously this data was collected manually. With this new station, the data is available in real time to show water levels below surface. The lower the number on the data, the closer the groundwater is to the surface. This data should help residents in the area to be able to prepare for potential groundwater issues that may arise. To access the data, simply scan the QR code, on next page. This station will also record temperature, wind speed and a variety of other data.

OBSERVATION WELL AND CLIMATE STATION

Operated by
U.S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY
IN COOPERATION WITH THE CITY OF SUMMERSET

This station is part of a national network for obtaining water-resources information. The recorded water levels and climate data are used for flood forecasting, reservoir operations, design of bridges and culverts, interstate and intrastate water-rights claims, and many other hydrologic projects.
